Disgraceful Business.

There has been secretly circulated through the mails without even postmarks an anonymous circular, libelous in its character, against Daniel F. Beatty of Washington, N. J., proprietor of the Beatty Piano and Beatty's celebrated Golden Tongue Parlor Organs.

It is supposed to have been done by competitors in the business, as none others would be to the trouble and expense, even if they had no fear of the punishment if detected, and the cause is attributed to the fact that Mr. Beatty has been making a very successful war upon high prices in those instruments.

We have received from Mr. Beatty the following open letter addressed to him by the officials and prominent men of his own town.

WASHINGTON, N. J., July 5, 1877.

To Daniel F. Beatty, Esq.:

It having come to our knowledge that communications written with an intent to falsify you and injure your business, have appeared in a certain periodical, we therefore, as citizens of this place—having known you for years—consider it an act of justice to you to pronounce all such communications to be entirely uncalled for and slanderous, and endorse you as being, so far as we have ever been able to judge, a man of sterling integrity and prompt in all your business transactions. Signed, Nathan Hilts, Mayor; Alpheus Babcock, G. A. Thatcher, Henry Winter, and Wm. E. Cummins, Councils; Joseph Vleit, Judge of the Court; James H. Groff, Vice President, and P. H Hann, Cashier First National Bank; Rev. J. J. Reed, Pastor M. E. Church (acquainted but few months); J. V. Creveling, Jos. A. Shrope and John C. Winter, Justices of the Peace; John Gardner, Sheriff, and Richard B. Shaffer, Deputy Sheriff of Warren county; A. W. Creveling, General Merchant; Philip Johnston, late Assessor, and others.

I certify that I am acquainted with the hand writing of the above, and recognize all of them as genuine. The gentlemen are of our best citizens, and I fully concur in the letter.

OSCAR JEFFERY,
Counselor-at-Law and Notary Public.

We can hardly conceive of a more complete answer to such a libel than the above letter, but Mr. Beatty requests all interested to address him for full reply, and asks for information touching the parties circulating the libel if any can be obtained, with a view to their prosecution and punishment.

BEATTY'S ORGANS.—Having furnished one of Beatty's fine Parlor organs for the Heath House, Schooley Mountain, N. J., we are in receipt of an acknowledgement, under date of Thanksgiving day, in which Mrs. J. W. Coleman, wife of the host, says: "We are also thankful for the additional pleasure of all in listening to the delightful tones of the beautiful organ that now ornaments our parlor, it having arrived just in time for the day. Our daughter is perfectly infatuated with it, and handles it very nicely. We were handsomely received by Mr. Beatty at his warerooms.—ALPINE CHRONICLE.

Emigration Cannot Affect Language.

Judging from history, it would scarcely be too much to say that no amount of known emigration has ever been sufficient to annihilate a language, or even to destroy its grammatical anatomy. The language of a people is too deeply rooted in all its habits of thought and life to be driven out by conquerors and invaders. Modification it undoubtedly effects, but they are for the most part superficial. Each country digests its conquerors and changes their language into its own. The invasion of England by the Normans, while it enriched the vocabulary of the English, did not vitally change the structure of their language. To this very day the Welsh speak their own language, and Gaelic and Irish still exist, completely separated from English. The two streams run along together, side by side, but they scarcely mingle. The enormous emigration of Germans in America has failed to produce more than the most trivial influence on the English speech. One of two results always takes place; either the language of the invaders supplants that of the people invaded, or directly the contrary. They would not mix and make a new composite, except under the most extraordinary circumstances. Language is like a living tree, which grows and develops new forms; but it does not change its vital structure and character. —North American Review

The extra price received for a superior article is nearly all profit. And this is especially the case with the farm. It costs no more to raise a good horse than a poor scrub. No more feed, care or time is required. And if the plug horse can be raised so as to pay expenses, there is a fine profit in raising first-class horses. The same is the case with neat cattle. In fact it costs more per pound to raise such a steer as would sell for three cents per pound than one which sells for six cents per pound. In this case there are nearly double the number of pounds, and double the price per pound, and yet the choice steer takes no more food or care than the other. In this case not only the extra price is the profit, but the extra weight also. —Iowa State Register.

A good story is told of an American lady who visiting friends in Canada, started for her home the other day, and crossing the St. Lawrence River at St. Vincent, the customs officer desired to look into her trunk. She offered no objection to the proceeding, and seeing her so willing, the officer asked her if she had anything in her trunk besides wearing apparel. A prompt negative came from the fair traveller. Her answer was scarcely uttered, however, before the officer had the trunk opened, and there, lying at the very top of her dresses and lingerie, were a dozen bottles of Hennessy brandy. "Do you call these wearing apparel?" queried the officer, his eyes meanwhile resting on the bottles. "You may call them what you please," said the lady, "but my husband calls them 'night caps!'" The officer "passed" the articles on account of her ready wit.

There is a class of farmers who are constantly on the lookout for a better place to go to. Their farms are always "for sale," and they dream of luxuriant lands in some other part of the country which can bought "for a song," where they imagine they would be more prosperous, and enjoy life better than where they now reside. Many of these men own mortgaged farms; and for such men to desire to remove where they can own a free farm, though it be far, far away, is but a natural manifestation to better one's condition which the mind cannot resist. But where can these men go, after selling their farms, and be contented? This is a serious question, which no man can answer of his own knowledge.—Colonial Farmer

There is a precocious six year old boy who is wonderful on spelling and definition. The other day his teacher asked him to spell "matrimony." "M a t-r-i-m-o-n-y," said the youngster, promptly. "Now define it," said the teacher. "Well," replied the boy, "I don't know exactly what it means, but I know mother's got enough of it.

Somebody has sent to this office a tract entitled: "What it is to be damned!" Such things are useless to newspaper men. All of the profession who have been any length of time engaged in it are very well aware what it is. —Boston Transcript.

Beecher's idea that there is no hell is bad for newspaper publishers, as so many subscribers may now utterly refuse to pay up, if they have the most remote suspicion that Beecher knows what he is talking about.

A woman was offered a thousand dollars if she would remain silent for two hours. At the end of fifteen minutes she asked, "Isn't the time nearly up?" and thus lost.

An editor speaking of spiritualism, says: "We don't believe in any medium except the 'circulating medium,' and that has become so scarce that our faith in it is shaky."

Charles Reade says that women are more cruel to each other than wild beasts, but who can blame a woman for not liking a woman.—Detroit Free Press.

Vanity keeps persons in favor with themselves, who are out of favor with all others.

One Happy Heart.

Have you made one happy heart to-day? Envied privilege. How calmly you can seek your pillow! how sweetly sleep! In all this world there is nothing so sweet as giving comfort to the distressed, as getting a sun ray into a gloomy heart. Children of sorrow meet us wherever we turn; there is no moment that tears are not shed, and sighs uttered. Yet how many of those tears, those sighs, are caused by our own thoughtlessness? How many a daughter wrings the very soul of a fond mother by acts of unkindness and ingratitude! How many husbands, by one little word, make a whole day of sad hours and unkind thoughts! How many wives, by angry recriminations, estrange and embitter their loving hearts! How many brothers and sisters meet but to vex and injure each other, making wounds that no human heart can heal! Ah, if each one worked upon this maxim day by day—"strive to make some heart happy"—jealousy, revenge, madness, hate, with their kindred evil associates, would forever leave the earth. Our minds would be so occupied in the contemplation of adding to the pleasures of others, that there would be no room for the ugly fiends of discord. Try it, ye discontented, forever grumbling devotees of sorrow, self-caused; it will make that little part of the world in which you move as fair as Eden.

Battle-fields.

The battle-fields around Richmond are quiet meadows now, reclaimed by Nature, with few signs of the days of "blood and iron." At Cold Harbor, Fair Oaks, Seven Pines, and Malvern Hill, one sees little to remind him of the terrible scenes enacted there twelve and fifteen years ago. In the woods and on hillsides and river bluffs in the Peninsula, where no attempt has been made to cultivate the land, sloping earthworks are still to be seen, but elsewhere the entrenchments have been levelled. Below Petersburg there are few traces even of such formidable fortifications as Steadman, Hell and Damnation. The Crater and the fields around it are owned by Mr. Griffiths, who was born close by, and was in Petersburg when the mine was fired. He has built a house near the Crater, and now has his father's farm under excellent cultivation. The Crater itself has been left almost untouched, and a thick underbrush of peach trees and sprouts has sprung up from the pits thrown away by the soldiers during the siege. The ravine where the dead lay in great heaps on that terrible morning, has been brought under the plow year after year, until now only a slight depression in the field can be pointed out. The visitor has to pay twenty-five cents for a glimpse of the Crater and the interior of a shed stocked with battle-relics.—New York Tribune.

HER FAITH IN THE PARSON.—A Boston correspondent tells a story of Rev. Dr. Stone, a pastor of Park-street Church, back in "the almost forgotten past." Dr Stone owned a well matched pair of horses, rather given to speed, which he drove in to church on Sunday from his home in the Roxbury district. In his congregation was a dear, saintly old lady—a veritable mother in Israel—who loved her pastor and would not tolerate the thought that he could do anything wrong. As she was being jogged along the mill dam road in the family carriage Sunday morning, on her way to church, accompanied by her son, the pastor's team bore down upon them at 2:50 gait, it being a little late, and passed them like a flash, the doctor holding the reins. "That reckless man!" exclaimed the dim sighted old lady, "to be so unmindful of the Lord's day!" "Why, mother," answered the son, "that is Dr Stone." "Is it?" she said, in momentary confusion; but added, as her faith reasserted itself: "The dear man—I suppose he couldn't hold them!"

LOVING FRIENDS.—Never cast aside your friends if by any possibility you can retain them. We are the weakest of spendthrifts if we let one drop off through inattention, or let one push away another, or if we hold aloof from one through petty jealousy or heedless slight or roughness. Would you throw away a diamond because it pricked you? One good friend is not to be weighed against the jewels of the earth. If there is coolness or unkindness between us, let us come face to face and have it out. Quick, before the love grows cold! Life is too short to quarrel in, or to carry black thoughts of friends. It is easy to lose a friend, but a new one will not come for calling, nor make up for the old one.

Peter Pindar boasted that he was the only man that ever outwitted a publisher. Being a popular writer, his works brought him a good income. His publisher wishing to purchase the copyright and print a collected edition, made him an offer in cash. In order, however, to drive a good bargain, Pindar feigned to be in very bad health, declaring he could not live very long; and every time the publisher came to see him he acted the invalid to such perfection that he got a handsome annuity, which, to the disgust of the publisher, he lived to enjoy until the age of eighty-one.

A Berlin paper says that Germany in 1880 will have a fleet which, although inferior in the number of vessels to those of France or England, will be superior in the quality of material and artillery, in the education of officers, and in the completeness of its equipment. The construction of vessels proceeds rapidly.

It is something mysterious and past finding out how it is that every man hanged for murder dies sure of eternal salvation. Nine out of ten express themselves as glad to meet their Saviour. We can only guess as to whether the gladness is reciprocal.

The object of the bill is to allow all persons whose lands have been sold to the State for taxes since the 1st day of January, 1876, to redeem the same from the State within one year from the passage of this bill of the Treasurer of the county where sold, upon paying to the State the taxes due at the time of sale, together with fifty per cent. added, also all taxes which were a lien on the real estate at the time of sale, with all costs and expenses which accrued by reason of the delinquency and sale and expenses of redemption.

An Act to provide for the election of delegates to the Constitutional Convention, to revise and change the Constitution of the State of California.

Amending said section by requiring any party demanding a jury shall deposit with the Justice $1 50 for each juror demanded. A jury to consist of either three, five or nine persons, to be agreed to by the parties, but in case no agreement is made then nine persons shall be a full panel and a majority verdict shall be the verdict of the jury.

OUR AMADOR DEBT.

The people of our sister county Amador, should be proud of the financial ability of some of the Supervisors they have been blessed with. When Alpine was cut off from Amador county, we were saddled with a debt of $10,000, payable to Amador county in two warrants of $5,000 each, with interest at the rate of ten per cent. per annum. When presented for payment they were duly indorsed, "Not paid for want of funds." After holding them several years the wise Supervisors of Amador concluded to sell them, and they soon found a customer, who bought the $10,000 with accumulated interest, for the sum $7,500 which amount was paid into the Treasury of that county in the shape of its own warrants, then worth 30 cents on the dollar, the Capital Savings Bank of Sacramento being the purchaser for the trifling sum of $2,250 cash. This financial stroke of the Amador Supervisors was lauded by the press of that county, with a complimentary notice of our county, "that Alpine would never be able to pay the debt" Now for the outcome of this wise act: Alpine has already paid to the Capital Savings Bank the snug sum of $11,000—$8,750 more than that Bank paid for the entire debt, and we are still owing $4,327 50—a portion of which sum will now be paid by our Treasurer, who is at Sacramento making his settlements. The action of that Board of Supervisors officially robbed the people of Amador county of about $14,000, and without benefiting that county in any particular. The "elephant" as the Amador papers called the debt, has been a very profitable one for the Capital Savings Bank, and we doubt not it would like to have on its hands a few more of the same kind.

The Herald's Washington correspondent says: Rumor says the President is getting tired of the pressure which is being brought upon him from certain quarters to dismiss his Secretary of the Interior and Postmaster General, and that if this continues he is not unlikely to ask for the resignation of some other members, retaining those above named. If the Cabinet is to be changed, he intends to make it more homogeneous and in the direct way of his own policy.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

DECEASED.—Death has again thinned the ranks of the Pioneers of Alpine.—Thomas J. Orgon, District Attorney of this county, died at Johnson's Hotel, Markleeville, at about 10 o'clock A. M. on Sunday last. The deceased had been out of health for years, but was not compelled to take to his bed until some two months ago, since which time he has gradually wasted away until death came to his relief. Mr Orgon was ever highly respected by the people of this county, himself being his greatest enemy. A more honorable man never lived; nor one with a more charitable or kind heart, being ever ready to assist the needy or distressed, so far as his means would allow the dispensation of charity. The deceased was a native of England, and aged 58 years. He leaves a married daughter residing at Gilroy. The funeral took place at Markleeville on Monday afternoon, and was very largely attended by friends from every portion of our county, the Court room and hall leading thereto, being filled by sorrowing friends. The services were conducted by Rev. R. H. Ford, of Silver Mountain, Peter Curtz presiding at the organ and conducting the musical exercises. Thus within a week two old friends and county officers of this county have crossed the river.

A small assessment has been levied upon the stockholders of the Utah mine to defray current working expenses. This mine is located at Newtown, some eight miles from this city, and has been developed into a most promising property. There is a shaft down about fifty feet, tapped by a tunnel, and the ore at that point is exceedingly rich, with every indication of a permanent mine. The stock is nearly all owned by four persons, and negotiations are now pending for the erection of a mill. We confidently expect to receive good reports from this mine before another year passes.—El Dorado Republican.

The stock of the Utah is mostly owned in Alpine county, the office being in Markleeville. The shareholders here are very much pleased with the prospects of the mine.

PROBATE.—J. B. Scott has petitioned for letters of administration on the Estate of Thomas W. Legget, deceased; and A. D. L. Payne has also petitioned the Probate Court to be appointed Administrator of the Estate of Peter Peterson deceased. The former will be heard on the 20th February, and the latter on the 11th February.

SOCIAL DANCE.—A social dance is to be given at Monitor on Wednesday evening next. We believe this gathering is for the more particular entertainment of our Silver Mountaineers, who have been invited, and propose taking our sister town by "storm."

A SUGGESTION.—We would suggest to the one who has been running the Carson Valley News during the absence of Brother Pratt, that men have been known to become very wealthy by minding their own business.

MORE SNOW.—This week we have had continuous storms of rain and snow, and now have on our streets about 18 inches of snow on a level.

DELINQUENT SALE.—The sale of delinquent stock of the Advance mine takes place to-day at San Francisco.

POSTPONED.—The sale of the English mines here has been again postponed till the 16th of February.

TELEGRAPH.—Brother Pratt, of the Genoa News, has made a contract to run the telegraph wires into Aurora and Bodie.

ANOTHER STORM.—Appearances to day indicate another storm at hand.

DELINQUENT TAXES.—The delinquent tax list will be published next week. It will be a large one.

SHAMEFUL.—A party of Germans in Philadelphia have been making themselves scandalously notorious. A German Society a day or two ago had its annual dinner, at which the German Consul, Charles Meyer, made a speech in which he ridiculed and derided the Government of the United States, and all connected with it and the only perfect Government was the German.—Stephen Remak, a prominent lawyer and counsel for the German Consul, also made a speech of the same tenor.

Then a party of Imperialists proposed toasts to the health and success of the German Emperor, and confusion to the United States Government. These actions so disgusted some of the other members of the Society that they left in a body and that the State Department should be notified of the scandalous proceedings, and that efforts should be made to have Meyer's conduct brought to the attention of the German Government. The affair may result in the recall of Meyer.

NEW PATENTS.—Through Dewey & Co. Patent Agents, San Francisco, we receive the following list of U. S. patents granted to Pacific coast inventors:

William Buson, Battle Mountain, Nevada, car step registers; William Butts, Petaluma, California, fruit and hop driers; Benton V. Crumrine, Yuba City, California, spark extinguishers; John Hay, Ellis, California, harvester and thresher; Giovanni N. Mileo, Stockton, California, insect powder injectors; Peter Okerlund, San Francisco, fifth wheels for vehicles; Joseph Perkins: San Francisco, soluble ink pens; Robert R. Speddin and Eugene Speddin, Astoria, Oregon, row-locks; John B. Ward, San Francisco, hot air engines; James Magers, Gervais, Oregon, bed bottoms; John Lemmon, San Francisco, harrows. Trade mark—M. Ehrman & Co., San Francisco and New York, teas.

STRANGE GAME.—There has been a considerable loss of sheep and lambs from the North Grant lately in consequence of the raids made by coyotes, eagles, etc. Poisoned bait was prepared for the former, and the result has been very satisfactory, a large number of the animals having thus been disposed of. A few mornings since it was discovered that the poison had killed a piece of game strange to this section—a big gray wolf! This animal had probably made his way down upon the ranch by following the American river. A few years ago the poison spread for coyotes on the ranch killed a large California lion, which had probably followed the same route down from the mountains.—Sacramento Record Union.

From statements made at a meeting of the California Academy of Sciences, the eucalyptus tree may be enumerated among the means of checking fire.—Eucalyptus shingles are said to be fireproof. A tree of this species was exposed to the San Francisco fire of 1876, and is still flourishing.

Commodore George N. Hollins died at Baltimore, Friday night, of paralysis, aged 79 years. He was in command of the sloop-of-war Cyane, which bombarded Greytown, Nicaragua, in 1854. At the commencement of the late civil war he entered the Confederate service.

General W. W. Loring, who left the United States army to join the Confederates, and who is now second in command in the army of the Khedive of Egypt, has asked Senator Lamar, through a friend, to introduce a bill to remove his disabilities.

On Saturday last a miner named T. Little fell headlong down the Savage shaft at Virginia City, a distance of 1.300 feet and was literally dashed to pieces. He leaves a wife and nine children.

The House Committee on Indian Affairs have agreed to report and recommend the passage of the bill providing for the transfer of the Indian Bureau to the War Department.

A bill has lately been introduced in Congress to do away with the stamps on bank checks. It is to be hoped it will pass. It is a very heavy tax on newspaper men.

Garroters are having fine times in San Francisco. Every night some pedestrian is garroted on the most public streets. Another Vigilance Committee might do some good there.

DEATHS.

LEGGET.—At Markleeville, January 15th. Thomas W. Legget, a native of Scotland, aged 61 years.

ORGON.—At Markleeville, January 20th Thomas J. Orgon, a native of England, aged about 58 years.

Among the Dead Failures.

Of the past, how many bogus nostrums may be numbered! Beginning their careers with a tremendous flourish of trumpets, blazoned for a time in the public prints and on flaming posters, soon, but not too soon, were they relegated to the limbo of things lost on earth.—But Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a living and thriving remedy. It goes on, curing and to cure. Neither underhand nor open competition affect it. On the contrary, contrast with inferior rival preparations only increases its popularity. It has been repeatedly imitated, but without success. Counterfeits of it have been surreptitiously introduced, but have fallen flat. Everywhere it entrenches itself in the confidence of the people; and well it may, for it is a thoroughly reliable invigorant of the feeble, banishes dyspepsia and constipation, braces the nerves, cures rheumatic ailments and kidney complaints, and eradicates and prevents intermittent and remittent fevers.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City.

THE CHRONICLE.

The Origin of Storms.

At the late meeting of the National Academy of Sciences, held at Columbia College, New York, Prof. Elias Loomis read a paper on the origin of storms, based upon data obtained by the United States Signal Service. He stated that our great storms begin in the neighborhood of the Rocky Mountains, and that no example is found of any considerable storm arising on the Pacific coast, south of Oregon. At the outset there is generally an area of several hundred miles diameter, through which the barometer stands at mean. On opposite sides of this area, generally east and west, at a distance of 1,000 miles apart, are areas of high barometer. The atmosphere in these side areas begins to move toward the central area. The currents thus established are deflected toward the right by the earth's rotation, and a diminished pressure results over the central area when the inflow increases and comes from all sides. The area of low pressure assumes an oval form, but if the winds are very violent, it may be more nearly circular. With rotation a centrifugal force is developed, which increases the pressure, and within the latter there is an upward movement of the atmosphere which carries large amounts of vapor, which, on cooling, condenses as rain. The heat liberated by condensation increases the rarefaction of the area, and thus rain increases the force of the storm, though never originating it. The upward motion within the storm area takes place chiefly on the east side, so that the depression at the center is constantly transferred toward the east, unless, however, there is a great precipitation of vapor on the west side of the area, in which case the storm is held stationary or even moved westward.

Wine of 1811.

The vintage of 1811 has now acquired a peculiar celebrity, and the good wine produced that year all over France has been generally attributed to the influence of the comet. France was in that year passing through too anxious a crisis to care much for choice wines, and these vintages were, in the autumn of the following year, freely sold at $300 a cask. In 1868 there was a sale of the cellars of Chateau Lafitte, including much of the Comet claret. The auction was held on the 27th of October, and as these were the days of the Second Empire, high prices were realized. The lots were started at $4 a bottle, and the bidding went up to $24; at which price a hotel keeper at Bordeaux bought a large quantity. Bottles of this wine were exposed in the windows of the hotel afterward at the sensation price of $30. In the meantime the Comet claret has been growing scarcer every day, and at a great wine sale just concluded in Paris the "gems of the collection" were two bottles of the famous vintage. The auctioneer, after a little pardonable preface, said he could not consent to start the lot at less than $60, which was the price realized at the latest sale for the same article. The price rose rapidly and it was evident that many purchasers were eager to make an investment. At last the ultimate fate of the bottles rested between two restaurants, and the bidder at $524 was declared the purchaser.

The Oyster Trade of Baltimore.

Thirty thousand people are engaged in the oyster trade of Baltimore, and more than seven hundred schooners and pongies form its Chesapeake oyster fleet. Some experts will open twenty-five gallons a day of oysters, earning twenty cents per gallon; men, women, girls (mostly of german parentage) and boys, are engaged in the packing and shipping rooms where the measuring, washing, assorting and canning go on incessantly. In the raw business the oysters are first packed in air-tight cans, which are in turn packed in sawdust and ice for shipment—fifteen million cans of raw being shipped in a season. In addition twenty-five million cans of steamed oysters are shipped per season. The Tangier and Pocomoke Sounds oysters are the favorite brands. The State licenses were issued on September 28, and on October 1 the season was opened with enlarged prospects, owing to European contracts.

Riches Have Wings.—The most rapid waste of a fortune on record is that accomplished by John Taylor Johnson. His father in the course of a long life accumulated a million for his son, and the latter sank the whole of it in two years. He had become president of the New Jersey Central Road, in which he embarked his entire fortune. The failure of this road ruined him in a complete and hopeless manner. Never before has a million been so rapidly thrown away by a man who had no bad habits, and was making every honest effort to increase his wealth.

A writer in the Woman's Journal goes on as follows: "Who rejected and crucified the Saviour? Men! Who conducted the ten persecutions of the Christians! Men!" Who bartered our Sunday clothes for a mess of Bohemian glass ware? And who contributed our best plug hat to the heathen? And who starched the nether expanse of our boiled shirt? Did men do it—eh?

It was Benjamin Franklin who remarked, "Avoid all arguments at home." When Mrs. Franklin asked Benjamin to go out in the yard and split an armful of kindling wood, instead of entering into a controversy over the subject he would put on his hat and go down town to see a man. Thousands of husbands to-day avoid arguments at home by adopting the same method.

The noblest part of a friend is an honest boldness in the notifying of errors. He that tells me of a fault aiming at my good, I must think him wise and faithful—wise in spying that which I see not, faithful in plain admonishment not tainted with flattery.

The proposition to introduce lady railroad conductors is frowned upon in view of the fact that their trains are always behind.

Who may be suffering from the effect of youthful follies or indiscretions, will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit [illegible] for every case of seminal weakness, or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure. He would therefore, say to the unfortunate sufferer who may read this notice, that you are treading on dangerous ground when you longer delay in seeking the proper remedy for your complaint. You may be in the first stage; remember you are approaching the last. If you are bordering on the last, and are suffering some or all of its ill effects, remember that if you persist in procrastination, the time must come when the most skillful physician can render no assistance; when the door of hope will be closed against you; when no angel of mercy can bring you relief. In no case has the Doctor failed of success.—Then let not despair work upon your imagination, but avail yourself of the beneficial results of his treatment before your case is beyond medical skill, or before grim death hurries you to a premature grave. Full course of treatment $25 00. Send money by Post Office order or Express with full description of case. C [illegible], or Address,
